Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 09 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Breezy with sunny spells in the afternoon.

Today:
A breezy day with early light rain and drizzle clearing eastwards during the morning. Skies will brighten up during the afternoon with the chance of an isolated shower. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
A largely dry evening in the west, but cloudier conditions in the east with showers. These become more widespread during the early hours with strengthening winds. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Monday:
A breezy day with sunny spells and scattered showers. Showers could turn heavy and thundery at times with the best of the sunshine in the afternoon. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Remaining unsettled and windy at times. Some sunny spells, although organised bands of showers merging into longer spells of rain at times too. Milder nights.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.